MOROCCAN SITUATION

Occupies the Attention of the People of France.

GERMANY IS ON THE ALERT

Kaiser's Government Closely Watching the Progress of Events—Fear Prevails That France Is on the Threshold of a Protracted Campaign

Paris, Sept. 6.—While there has not been any more fighting at Casa Blanca since the fierce engagement of Tuesday, the seriousness of the general situation in Morocco and the possibility of its leading France into diplomatic difficulties with the other powers of Europe, notably Germany and Great Britain, to say nothing of the apparently growing necessity of increasing the size of the French force on the Moroccan coast, is occupying the attention of the French people.

The press is calling attention to the difficulty of keeping within the terms of the Algeiras convention, and the call to convolve parliament to discuss and decide what course the nation should pursue is becoming more insistent. There is a growing feeling that the important decisions in the matter of France's policy in Morocco should not be left entirely to the members of the cabinet.

The seriousness of the fighting of Tuesday in which Major Prevost of the Foreign legion was killed, further details of which have been published, has brought home to the French people a comprehension of the persistent resistance of the Moors and a realization that France may be only at the threshold of a protracted campaign that may easily prove costly in lives and money. The situation is now referred to as a "war" and no longer as heretofore, as an "expedition of pacification."

No other power yet has been drawn into the difficulty, but Germany is watching the progress of events in Morocco more closely every day and as it becomes apparent that the situation there is not improving, it is intimated in Berlin that the Algeiras convention, under the terms of which France and Spain are acting in Morocco, prescribes certain limitations and that France is approaching the bounds beyond which she would not go without first obtaining the special permission of the powers.

The situation at Mazagan is reported to be growing more threatening.

Native advisers received at Tangier declare that 20,000 hostile Moors have concentrated not far from Casa Blanca, and that 10,000 Cabilé tribesmen have mobilized near Alcabaza.

Spain is preparing to send reinforcements of men and ships to Morocco. One Spanish battleship, the Emperor Carlos V., arrived at Tangier Thursday.

MAZAGAN BOMBARDED.

Only a Few Shops and Houses Left Standing.

Paris, Sept. 6.—The Petite République publishes a dispatch from Tangier saying that Jews there have received letters announcing that Mazagan has been bombarded and that only a few shops and houses in the center of the town are left standing.

MEETS WITH DISASTER.

Steamer of the Mikkelson Arctic Expedition Lost.

London, Sept. 6.—It is reported here from Athabasca Landing, in the Canadian Northwest, that the steamer Duchess of Bedford, on which the Mikkelson Arctic expedition was working its way into the polar regions, has been lost. All the reports agree on this; but there is uncertainty as to whether Captain Mikkelson was with the ship when she went down. The news was brought into Athabasca Landing by a steamer in the service of the Hudson Bay company.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN OREGON

Teamster Kills His Wife, His Daughter and Himself.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 6.—Charles Bailey, a teamster, shot and killed his wife and her twelve-year-old daughter, Rhoda Bailey. Bailey then shot himself to death. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey had not been living together and she had been supporting herself and daughter by working in a laundry. While more or less under the influence of liquor Bailey went to his wife's home and committed the crime.

Six Men Blown to Pieces.

Rostov-on-the-Don, Russia, Sept. 6.—Six men were blown to pieces here by the accidental discharge of two bombs which they were carrying through the streets.

APPROVED BY COMMITTEE.

Delegate Choate's Plan for International Court of Justice.

The Hague, Sept. 6.—Joseph H. Choate, one of the American delegates to the peace conference, is credited with the statement that he will not leave The Hague until his pet project for the creation of a permanent international high court of justice has become an accomplished fact and at Thursday's meeting of the examining committee under the presidency of M. Bourgeois, which is dealing with this matter, he had the satisfaction of securing the approval for the American project with the exception of the paragraph referring to the allotment of judges.

In a powerful speech Mr. Choate urged the committee not to permit its differences on the matter of the allotment of judges to interfere with the solemn duty devolving upon it of satisfying either permanently or provisionally the universal demand for the establishment of such a court.

"It would be ignominious in the last degree for us to confess our inability to discharge this duty," Mr. Choate declared. He suggested a number of solutions for the difficulty regarding judges, including a proposal for the election of judges by the whole conference voting by states, each state exercising absolute equality. He maintained that this method assured equality "of sovereignty, as well as equality in all other respects. Each nation would take its chance, he said, of a successful canvass. Mr. Choate then mentioned a long list of jurists of world-wide renown, included among the delegates to the present conference, from among whom they might easily form a court which could command the confidence and admiration of the entire world.

Mr. Choate's appeal resulted in the appointment of a committee composed of Mr. Choate and James Brown Scott, United States; Baron Marschal von Bieberstein, Germany; M. Bourgeois, France; M. Nelldoff, Russia; Count Tornelli, Italy; Herr Merry von Kapos-Herey, Austria, and Dr. Barboza, Brazil, to examine the question of the allotment of judges. This committee will meet Sept. 10. It has been decided that the judges of the court are to receive a fixed salary of $2,400 a year and in addition $40 a day while sitting on the court.

M. Nelldoff, president of the conference, has sent out notices convoking a plenary sitting for Saturday, Sept. 7.

Spanish Troops for Casa Blanca.

San Sebastian, Spain, Sept. 6.—Reinforcements of troops to the number of 700 men are preparing to embark here for Casa Blanca on the Spanish cruiser Extremadura.

MINNEAPOLIS MAN KILLED.

Fatal Shooting and Stabbing Affray Occurs in South Dakota.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 6.—William Walde, believed to have come from Minneapolis, was shot in a fight in a workmen's car on a westbound Milwaukee train near Andover. Another man, whose name is not known, was stabbed, and may not survive. Ed Gilmour was arrested and may be accused of the stabbing. It is claimed that the shot was fired by the wounded man. Walde died later.

Stories of the affair as told by the workmen when they reached this city are widely at variance. One of the workmen, said by some to have been Gilmour, stood at a window of the car and was firing from it with a revolver. Another workman, said to have been the one who now is wounded, took the weapon from the man at the window, and Walde interfered with him.

It is claimed that Walde in the fracas over the gun stabbed his opponent in the right side and the latter turned and fired in self-defense, the bullet striking Walde in the head.

Another account of the affair is that Walde was the man who was shooting from the car window and that the stabbing was done by Gilmour, the wounded man having taken the gun from Walde.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Chicago Man Kills a Young Girl and Himself.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Because she refused his attentions, George Cook, a married man, shot and killed Elizabeth Licenfeld, nineteen years old, and then committed suicide. Two weeks ago Cook's wife left Chicago for a vacation. Shortly after she left the city Cook met the murdered girl and the two went to several places of amusement together. Wednesday Miss Licenfeld learned that Cook had a wife and told him she would have nothing more to do with him. Thursday night as she was entering a candy store in North Leavitt street, Cook, who had been waiting for her, shot her twice in the head and then turned the weapon upon himself.

MANGLED BY DYNAMITE.

Child Injured by Bomb Intended for His Father.

St. Louis, Sept. 6.—A special to the Republic from Little Rock, Ark., says: Dynamite placed at the front gate of the home of Attorney General F. W. Kirby, presumably by a man seeking the official's life, was found by Mr. Kirby's five-year-old son Thursday morning and exploded while the boy was playing with it, mangling both the child's hands and driving part of the tube into his body, causing probably fatal wounds.

BUGGY HIT BY A TRAIN.

Indiana Woman and Her Daughter and Son Killed.

Hartford City, Ind., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Robert Gueseman, aged forty years, a daughter, Gretta Gueseman, eighteen years old, and a son, Frank Gueseman, aged twenty, met instant death just east of this city when a buggy in which they were riding was struck by a fast Lake Erie and Western train. The husband and father identified the victims at the morgue.

FIFTY ARE BURIED ALIVE.

Avalanche Obliterates Chilean Custom House.

Santiago, Sept. 6.—Fifty persons are said to have been buried alive by a vast avalanche of snow that rolled down the mountain side and obliterated the Chilean custom house at Juncal. This station is on the Argentine frontier high up in the Andes.

Lewis Sells Is Dead.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—Lewis Sells, aged sixty-five, died here Thursday night of Bright's disease after a week's illness. He was a member of the quartet of Sells brothers who owned the Sells brothers circus, which in 1899 was united with Adam Forepaugh's show.

TO STAMP OUT THE PLAGUE

Federal Officials Take Charge of Measures in San Francisco.

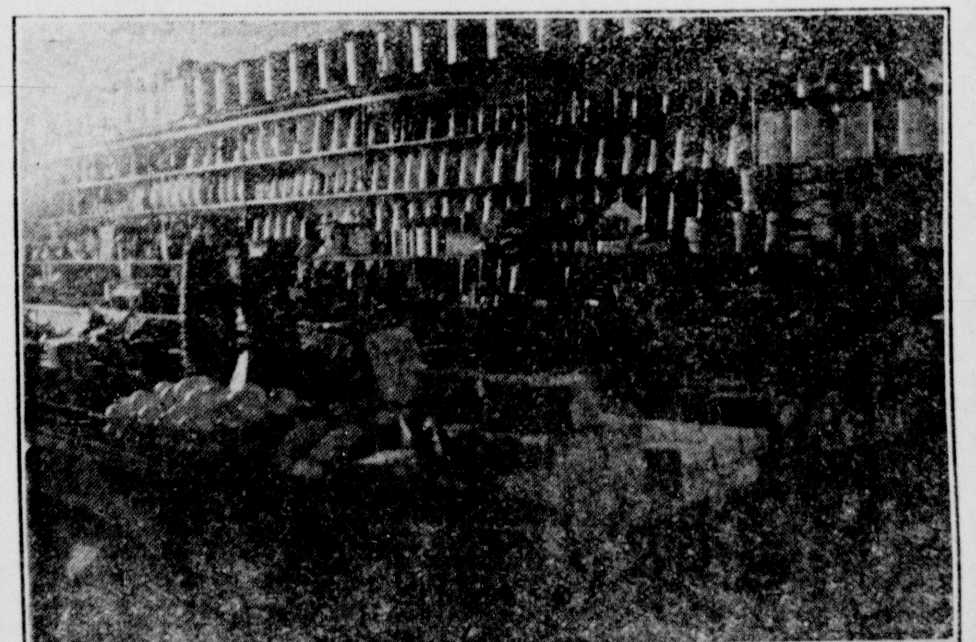

Washington, Sept. 6.—By direction of President Roosevelt, the public health and marine hospital service has assumed charge of the measures to stamp out the plague in San Francisco. This step was taken upon the request of the mayor of San Francisco, who added that the city would do all that is possible toward the providing of funds to carry on the work. Acting promptly on telegraphic instructions from Oyster Bay, Surgeon General Wyman issued the necessary orders and notified the mayor of San Francisco that the corps of service officers already on duty there would be augmented and additional measures taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

FOR RELEASE OF MACLEAN

British Legation Treating With Moroccan Bandit.

Tangier, Sept. 6.—It is understood here that the British legation is actually treating with the bandit Raisul for the release of Capt. Sir Harry MacLean, who has been his prisoner since early in July. Raisul's terms have not yet been made clear, but it is declared that even if they are somewhat extravagant, the Moroccan government will accede to them.

BRYAN REPLIES TO TAFT.

Attacks Views of the Secretary of War on National Policies.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 6.—Ten thousand persons heard William J. Bryan here Thursday night reply to the recent address of Secretary of War Taft upon the Oklahoma-Indian Territory political situation in Convention hall, 300 people unable to secure admittance to the auditorium attended an overflow meeting near by. Mr. Bryan was enthusiastically received. In addition to scoring Secretary Taft soundly for placing his personal ambitions above the welfare of the people of Oklahoma and attacking the views of the secretary of war on national policies, Mr. Bryan declared that the constitution of the proposed new state was even better than that of the United States.

Mr. Bryan also spoke at Vinita, Sapulpa, Tulsa, Bristow and Chandler.

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Brainerd Readers Have This Experience

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back gives out—it aches and pains;

Urinary troubles set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Brainerd people tell you how they act.

David Northrup, 918 Fron St., Brainerd, Minnesota, says: "Backache and kidney complaint were of short duration in my case after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at H. P. Dunn & Co's drug store. There has been a dull steady aching in my back and lameness across the loins. It only required one box of Doan's Kidney Pills to regulate the action of the kidneys to a normal condition, remove the backache and impart tone and strength to the parts affected. From the results I obtained I believe any sufferer from kidney complaint will find in Doan's Kidney Pills a most valuable remedy."

THE SHIP'S RUDDER.

Difference in the Strain That Comes Upon Its Two Parts.

The rudder of a wooden ship is composed of the stalk and the backing, which are so joined together as to form in effect a single piece. The complete rudder is covered to protect it from worms, and then, besides being practically all in one piece, it has that appearance also.

The stalk is the part to which are attached the pintles, or pivots, by which the rudder is suspended and held in place, these going through eyes set in the ship's sternpost. The stalk runs up through the stern of the ship, and to its head is bolted a cap to which are attached the ropes by means of which the rudder is controlled. The backing is the blade part of the rudder.

By far the greater strain comes on the stalk, and the greatest strain of all comes on the head of the stalk, the rudder head, where it is held. The stalk is made of the wood most likely to stand the strain, carefully selected, sound, well seasoned oak, while the backing is made of spruce or hard pine. The stalk is of a single, solid, massive piece, stout as an oak tree and indeed of the dimensions of a small oak, something that a man can pin his faith to, if he can have faith in any wood, while the backing or blade is, like many modern wooden masts, built up. It would be difficult if not impossible to find trees that would yield planks big enough for the purpose in a single piece, and the built up backing, made of pieces of selected wood, can easily be made of ample strength to withstand any strain that will be brought upon it.

As to the stalk, stout and solid as the oak may be, the head may be twisted by the force of a tremendous blow from a wave upon the rudder, or, under the repeated strains of long use, the head may split and so make the stalk useless. Then the rudder is taken out and fitted with a new stalk. A suitable stick is selected and worked down to the proper size and form, and very probably the old backing is attached to it. The life of a rudder stalk would probably be twelve to fourteen years. The backing might last as long as the ship.—New York Sun.

A HERO OF THE BUSH.

The Daring and Devotion of a Brave Maori Youth.

Courage is not an attribute peculiar to the white man, nor is self sacrifice the prerogative of civilization. In Mr. J. C. Firth's "Nation Making" is told a story as touching in its brave devotion as any tale of the Victoria cross. The incident occurred at Orakani, where the English soldiers had just defeated the Maoris. A little party of colonial troops, pursuing fugitives, came upon three natives, two old men and one young fellow.

The youth, seeing the soldiers, dropped on one knee and aimed with his gun at the advancing party, which halted a moment, while the old men ran toward the forest. The old man had thrown away their firearms in order to make escape easier.

The soldiers fired at the youth, but missed. Without discharging his gun he sprang to his feet and ran on in advance until he caught up with the old men once more. Then, facing about, he presented his gun as before, but reserved his fire.

The weary old men gradually drew near cover. Once more the soldiers fired and missed; once more the gallant fellow turned and bounded on. The old men were close to the forest when the youth, nearly fainting, again knelt and took aim, but still did not fire.

The soldiers shot him as he knelt and rushed to the forest, but failed to capture the two fugitives, who, safe in the dense underbrush, made their escape.

On their return the soldiers found the brave young fellow lying dead. His gun was empty; it had not been loaded at all. With it he had covered the retreat of the old men and secured their freedom by the loss of his own life. No more gallant deed of heroic devotion was ever accomplished in any land.

Dreams of the Healthy.

There has been much discussion as to whether one dreams only on falling to sleep and during the act of waking up, or whether dreams take place at any time during sleep. While not definitely determined as yet, the evidence seems to be rather in favor of the view that one may dream at any time during the night or the whole night through. Dreaming is common to perfectly healthy persons, and in itself is no evidence of disorder.—Harper's Magazine.

Mount McKinley.

In mountain climbing the world over the climber usually arrives fresh and unfatigued at the base of the peak he wishes to storm and, as a rule, begins his ascent at a high altitude. On Mount McKinley, as described by a writer in Outing, it is the opposite. There are twenty-five miles of rugged foothills and glaciers to be crossed—with heavy packs—before the base of the mountain is reached, and then the climber is confronted by 18,000 feet of rock and ice.

TO THE PUBLIC

A long, cold winter is close at hand and a shortage of fuel is predicted by the railroad company. We have been hustling all summer to get in shape to supply the large demand which is sure to be made upon us as soon as the cold weather sets in. We have been able to secure about 2000 cords of wood which, together with what we can still get, will no doubt help out with the wood question.

Regarding the coal problem—We are now in a position to take care of all orders both large and small, that we may be favored with. Our first order for 15 cars has just commenced to arrive and we shall have others coming just as fast as we can unload them. As all our coal is weighed on the city scales by the city weigh-master you need have no fear of getting short weight.

Thanking you one and all for past favors and hoping for a continuance of the same, we remain,

Yours truly,

A PLEASANT WEDDING

Hoken A Lensrud and Mabel Lucetia English Made Man and Wife

GO TO SEATTLE TO MAKE HOME

Groom a Popular Tailor and the Bride a Favorite School Teacher

A very pretty home wedding occurred Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Jennie H. English, 712 North Broadway, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Mabel English, the elder daughter of Mrs. English and Hoken A. Lensrud. The house was decorated in green and golden glow and golden rod. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Berry, Prof. W. S. Barch playing the wedding march. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk and carried pink roses. The groom wore conventional black. Only the family and a few very intimate friends were present.

The bride is one of Crow Wing county's most popular teachers and has lived all her life in Brainerd. The groom was a tailor in the employ of P. M. Zakariassen, but is better known as one of the finest violinists in the city, having played in Graham's orchestra for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Lensrud left last night for Seattle, where they will spend the winter.

Letter to Con O'Brien, Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Sir: Would you rather have your customers speak of your shoes as wearing well, as not running down at the heel, as turning water, and taking a shine; or wag their heads and say nothing?

We'd rather have ours, at long intervals, say: "We want some more paint, and we want Devoe." We know it isn't in human nature to paint very often; we don't expect them to come very often; don't want 'em to. All we want is to paint what they have to paint, whenever they paint it; the longer the time, the surer they are to come back. There's business enough in the world; there's houses enough to paint; let 'em take their time.

If we were a shoemaker, we'd make shoes to last half a lifetime, and shoe the whole town. Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co., New York and Chicago. Chas. M. Patek sells our paint.

How to Avoid Appendicitis

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels, and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. H. P. Dunn & Co. mwf

What Is a Surveyor?

If you mention "surveying" to the average layman the word calls up in his mind either a confused vision of a man with a little telescope on a tripod looking at something another man is holding, or two men dragging a chain along the ground. But what is a surveyor? The truth is there are many kinds of surveying, and consequently the word "surveyor" can be, and is, applied to a wide range of persons. For instance, the engineer with his transit, the miner with his level, the city surveyor with a theodolite, and the mariner with his sextant, are all surveying. And the map maker with his plane table and alidade, is a surveyor, too; the most picturesque of the lot.—Wide World Magazine.

FARM, HOME AND GARDEN

It should be borne in mind that tomatoes can be ripened quicker and better in a dark place than on the vines. This information is especially valuable in case of an early frost as almost all the green tomatoes can thus be ripened.

The state drainage commission is taking an important step in the good roads movement. According to the Duluth Evening Herald the commission will put in state highways along each ditch, grading them from the dirt taken from the ditches. These highways will be of vast value in opening up the new territory in Northern Minnesota as it will assure the settlers of good main roads from the start. In this connection, it might be of interest that the big swamp between Big Falls and International Falls, which was supposed to be bottomless has been found in the construction of the railroad to have a rock bottom only four or five feet down. It is easily drained and will make some of the best farming land in the state as soon as opened up.

Have you made any preparations for trying winter wheat or rye this year. There should be a small patch tried by every farmer. Something is needed to take the place of spring wheat which no longer is a certain crop here. Those who raise rye declare that it is a sure crop, while experiments the past year in winter wheat have been very successful.

A few years ago there was considerable talk of speltz as a food crop for domestic animals, but for the last year or two little has been said about it. The editor of this department would like to hear how it is doing. Is it a sure crop? Do the horses, hogs and cattle like it, and is it a profitable, flesh producing food? Who will let us know about this.

Farmers' wives who have not a large supply of Mason jars, or who have had bad luck in canning corn may preserve a goodly supply of that vegetable by salting it down. The corn is cooked on the ear just enough to set the kernels and then packed in salt, in about the same proportions that cucumbers are salted down, and treated in the same way. It will make its own brine and when freshened and cooked in the winter is a very agreeable and healthy addition to the bill of fare.

It is almost impossible for fruit or vegetables canned in Mason jars to spoil if a little precaution is taken. Can in the usual way. After canning in the usual way melt a little paraffine, take a small brush and spread the melted wax liberally over the joint between the can and the cover. After the cans and the wax get cold apply a second coat in the same way. It is utterly impossible for air to get into the can if this is properly done.

It may surprise some to learn that the addition of a small amount of sugar to fruit when canned is worse than none at all. It has a tendency to cause fermentation unless there is enough to make preserves.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Flying Kites For Luck.

On the ninth day of the ninth month, according to the Chinese calendar, all the Celestials, old and young alike, betake themselves to the hills behind their towns and amuse themselves by flying kites. But amusement is not the sole reason for this ceremony. It comes from an old Chinese legend, and if a Chinaman did not fly his kite on the given day he would rest uneasily for the remainder of his life in fear that misfortune would overtake his family. The legend runs that many years ago a certain Chinaman was warned in a dream that a misfortune would come to his home on a certain day. Accordingly on that day he repaired to an adjacent hill and amused himself and his family by flying a kite while he was waiting for the disaster. In the evening, upon returning to the valley in which his house was situated, he found that it had fallen in and buried his pigs beneath it. He and his neighbors joined in thanksgiving for his narrow escape, and in memory of the event every year sees the flight of millions of kites in China.—New York Tribune.

The Unsociable Young Napoleon.

At dinner during the voyage to Corsica, to which my father invited the passengers who included some officers of his regiment and the two Corsicans, he requested an officer, M. de Belloc, to call a young man who was wearing the uniform of the military school and reading at the end of the boat. The young man refused. M. de Belloc came back irritated and said to my father: "I should like to throw the unsociable little fellow into the sea. He has an unpleasant face. Will you grant me permission, colonel?" "No," said my father, laughing, "and I am not of your opinion. His face shows character, and I am sure that he will be heard of some day." The unsociable fellow was the future Emperor Napoleon. Belloc has related this scene to me at least ten times, adding, with a sigh, "Ah, if the colonel had only allowed me to throw him into the sea he would not be turning the world upside down today."—From Memoirs of Comtesse de Boigne.

No Gain and Some Loss.

"Yes," the leader of the amateur brass band was saying, "it's curious to see what an effect learning to play a horn has on some persons. I used to be a pretty good bass singer, but I can't sing worth a cent now."

"Does learning to play a horn spoil the voice?" asked his next door neighbor. "It did mine." "How do you account for it?" "I don't know how to account for it. Strains the vocal cords perhaps. All I know is that I blew my voice out through the mouthpiece of my cornet."

"Did you have a good voice?" "Everybody said so."

"Then it's a great pity you ever learned to play a horn," replied his neighbor, shaking his head sadly. "I—er—think I should have enjoyed hearing you sing."—Youth's Companion.

An Expert Marksman.

The terms "sharpshooter," "expert marksman," etc., which have distinguished the classes of military riflemen are often puzzling to those not familiar with rifle practice. To become a marksman one must make 98 out of a possible 150 at 200, 300 and 500 yards. The sharpshooter must get 160 out of 200 at 200, 300, 500 and 600 yards, besides doing well enough in skirmish to bring his total to 225, or two-thirds of the possible score. An expert must do all this and also score 40 out of 50 at 300 yards and 35 out of 50 at 1,000 yards. The latter distance is more than half a mile and the bullseye looks mighty small.—Scranton Republican.

Time to Quit.

A newly enlisted fireman of only average pluck was serving at his first fire, and the chief rushed up to him and shouted: "Shin up that ladder to the eighth story, crawl along the cornice to the fourth window, drop down three stories and catch that wooden sign you see smoking there, swing yourself along to the second window that the red glare is coming from, break the glass and go in and rescue those three old ladies. Well, what the deuce are you waiting for?" "For pen and ink, sir," said the new man. "I want to hand in my resignation."—Argonaut.

Charcoal an Antidote.

Japanese physicians declare it is impossible for internal poisoning to occur if powdered charcoal be swallowed as soon as the gastro intestinal disturbance is felt. French physicians have tested the power of charcoal and proved that it is the most active of all known antidotes. The charcoal must be taken as soon as the poison taken begins to show its effect, and the dose must be large. Charcoal is in no way injurious, and as much as a soup-spoonful may be taken in divided doses mixed in water.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At The "Unique"

The pictures at the Unique are unusually good. Not only are they interesting subjects but they are almost perfect mechanically and artistically. "Angling in Norway," a scene showing a party of ladies and gentlemen out on a midwinter fishing picnic is very interesting and shows some beautiful scenery. "Buying a Donkey" and "Too Stout" furnishes the comical part of the program and produce enough laughs to cure any case of dyspepsia. "Life in a South African Gold Mine" is a very clever and realistic representation of these scenes. The songs are "If the Man in the Moon Were a Coon," which is beautifully illustrated, and "Dearest, Sweetest, Best in the World to Me," which are sung in Mr. Murphy's usual style.

A Wife's Secret

"A wife's Secret," which will be seen at the opera house Tuesday, Sept. 10th is said to present a charming life picture of human sentiment that appeals strongly to every lover of the emotional drama. It tells a story of absorbing interest, of a young wife's ejection from the home of her husband, because of ungrounded suspicions, and her subsequent trials and hardships, struggling against the insinuations of the world. It is said to be a play that appeals to the heart most strongly, and its characters are all natural and familiar figures from every day life. The newspapers of other cities where "A Wife's Secret" has appeared this season, join in pronouncing it one of the most powerful dramas written in recent years, and their decision has been seconded by the public in general, for since its opening over three years ago, it has been attended with most gratifying financial results.

"Bijou"

"Launching the Lifeboat" is a thrilling piece at this popular theatre this evening and Saturday. "The Strike," portraying the troubles of a family without servants is a strikingly comic thing. "Cock Fighting in Seville," is a film needing no explanation. Its name tells the story. "All's Well That Ends Well" is a dramatic production that holds the audience well. "Capt. Baby Bunting," an illustrated war song sang by Miss Carmen Mahlum, made a great hit last night.

The County Chairman

George Ade's brightest comedy and his most successful one "The County Chairman," presented by the biggest dramatic company will be the attraction at the opera house Wednesday, Sept. 11th and the announcement of its coming should delight theatre-goers in eager expectation. It is useless to dwell upon the merits of "The County Chairman" for the critics of New York, Chicago, Boston and other of the larger cities of the north and middle west have added, without a dissenting opinion, bright flowers to the crown of success the piece now so gracefully wears. It is a matter of theatrical history that "The County Chairman" enjoyed long and prosperous runs in these cities and it has now become a matter of record that it has been pronounced the best of all the Ade creations, although there are some brilliant stars that still mark the firmament and for the rise of which that clever humorist, by the name of Ade, is merrily responsible.

"The Time, The Place and The Girl"

The crowd at the opera house Wednesday evening thoroughly appreciated the production of this popular piece by Harry Short and his supporting company. This piece is much superior in plot to the average musical play and the situations are brought about by events which might happen in the course of ordinary life and the people are natural. Harry Short and Happy John Hicks reminds one forcibly of Shorty McCabe as created by Sewell Ford and other members of the troupe are equally good. There is no villain in the play, all characters showing the streaks of good and bad which occur in all natures in real life. The singing was good, the chorus being especially strong. It will receive a good house if it ever comes here again.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. J. Nausbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success. For sale by H. P. MONEY MARKET'S CONDITION

Causes Directors of New York Traction Company to Pass Dividend.

New York, Sept. 6.—Another chapter to the story of the financial affairs of the Interborough-Metropolitan company, which controls all the traction, elevated and subway lines in Manhattan, was added Thursday when the directors of the company passed the quarterly dividend on the preferred stock. The company had previously paid 1 1/4 per cent quarterly on its $15,000,000 of preferred stock. The directors declare that the present condition of the money market and uncertainty as to what changes may be ordered by the public service commission were the causes that led up to their action. The stock has declined nearly fifty points since the beginning of the year and the news of the passing of the dividend had little effect on the stock market.

The Shopkeeper's Son.

A shopkeeper told his son to look after the business. Presently a customer entered and asked with formality, "Have you a reverend sire?" He answered, "No." "Have you a reverend dame?" He said, "No."

When the shopkeeper returned his son told him the conversation between himself and the customer.

"Oh, you silly boy," said the shopkeeper. "Reverend sire meant me. Reverend dame meant your mother. They are polite terms for father and mother. How can you say you have none?"

The boy replied, "I did not know that you-both were for sale."—From the Chinese.

Man's Heartlessness.

There is nothing like the heartlessness of a man. There is a certain pretty little bride who is just coming to know that. She fell out with her newly acquired husband the other day. I forget quite what it was about, but it seems to me he had said things about a new gown of hers. At any rate, life was no longer worth living. She shut herself in her room and cried till her head ached. Then she bathed her eyes, brushed a puff of powder over her red and swollen nose and called icily to her husband:

"Fred," said she, "bring me a spoon, please. I'm going to take poison."

"Yes, dear," answered the heartless monster from below. "Do you want a teaspoon or a tablespoon?"

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. For sale by H. P. Dunn & Co. mwf-dw

Incidental Music.

One afternoon a couple from an adjoining town presented themselves to a Boston divine and asked to be married just as he was about to enter the pulpit to conduct an afternoon service. The minister replied that he regretted that he could not at that moment comply with their wish, but that immediately upon the conclusion of the service he would take pleasure in performing the ceremony. The lovers, after demurring, seated themselves in the rear of the church. When the minister had finished the service he made the following announcement: "The parties who are to be joined in matrimony will present themselves at the chancel immediately after the singing of hymn 415, 'Mistaken Souls That Dream of Heaven'."

DECIDE TO ARBITRATE.

Street Railway Employees of Louisville Will Not Strike.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 6.—After a majority of the union employees of the street railway company were reported to have voted in favor of going on a strike at 6 a. m. Friday morning and all hope of a settlement seemed gone, an agreement was reached at midnight whereby the strike is delayed if not called off entirely. A citizens' committee headed by Mayor John Ham met with a committee representing the employees and the officials of the company finally accepted a proposition to arbitrate the differences, the men to remain at work meantime.

Two Duluth Men Injured.

FATAL FIRE IN HOTEL

Eleven Persons Are Believed to Have Perished.

HEMMED IN BY THE FLAMES

Eight People Leap to Their Death From the Upper Story of the Webb Hotel at Sheldon, Wash.—At Least Three Others Burned to Death.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 6.—Hemmed in by a wall of flame which shut them off from the stairways and too terrified to wait for help from the outside, eight persons leaped to their death from the upper story of the Webb hotel at Sheldon, twenty miles from Tacoma.

Three others are known to have died in the flames, and it is possible that there may have been other victims, as there is no record of the number of guests in the building at the time of the fire. Among the victims are the following:

Miss Ivy May Bailey, chambermaid; William Holmes, master mechanic, Peninsula railway shops; Pearl E. Larson, a boy, driver for a butcher; Mrs. Gay of the hotel; Dan J. Hennessey, logger; Mrs. Mudge, Leora Dideau, bartender; Sam Holt, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Westfall; unknown man, jumped from third story through skylight to kitchen floor and was killed.

The fire was discovered about 1:40 Thursday morning. It had started in the hotel annex, probably from a lighted cigar dropped in the sample room. The hotel was a three-story structure. The top floor was occupied by a number of lodgers, but the exact number is not known.

Within a few minutes of the time the fire was discovered the hotel was a mass of flames.

Screams and cries for help were coming from almost every window and there were dozens of people risking their own lives to help bring out the unfortunates. Those in the upper rooms were entirely cut off from the stairway and seven or eight jumped from the windows before help could reach them from the outside.

Ten are known to be dead and one dying. All but three were killed by jumping from windows.

The hotel occupied a corner of a block in the center of the city that was solidly built of frame structures.

SECRETARY ROOT TO RETIRE

Reported That Joseph H. Choate Will Be His Successor.

Washington, Sept. 6.—From a trustworthy source it is intimated that Joseph H. Choate of New York soon will succeed Elihu Root as secretary of state in President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Rumors of Mr. Root's forthcoming resignation after his visit to Mexico in October will not down. His health is impaired and his ambitions, politically, blighted.

Had the president gone behind him instead of Taft for president, it is believed that Root would be in better spirits. But he didn't, and as the story goes Root doesn't see any additional honor in staying in the president's cabinet and will retire at an early date.

Mr. Choate is a distinguished diplomat and a warm friend of the president. Beside, he trains with the right crowd in New York.

In connection with the Root resignation story is a rumor also that Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, is to succeed James Wilson as secretary of agriculture, and that Attorney General Bonaparte and Secretary of the Navy Metcalf soon will drop out of the cabinet. The only name mentioned as a probable successor to Bonaparte is Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, but Mr. Kellogg repeatedly has ridiculed the story.

The president probably will let Mr. Wilson remain until late in the winter.

ter, so the Iowan can go out with a record of having served longer in the cabinet than any other man since the republic was founded. That is Mr. Wilson's great ambition now.

It has been known for some time that Secretary Metcalf hasn't had much to say about naval affairs. The president always consults Assistant Secretary Newberry and Admiral Brownson, chief of the navigation bureau. So Metcalf's retirement at an early date would create no surprise.

JEALOUSY THE MOTIVE.

Ohio Youth Confesses That He Set Fire to a Hotel.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—Burton Plummer, nineteen years old, has confessed that he had set fire to the Normandie hotel, which Wednesday was gutted by flames and water with a loss of $200,000. He said he was jealous of the attentions paid by Charles Dohr, a hotel clerk, to a dining-room girl of whom he was enamored and he also felt vengeful toward the clerk because he was given more days away from duty.

Fatally Gored by a Bull.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 6.—Going to his barn at an early hour in the morning, Lars P. Moe, a farmer living near Stoddard, just south of here, was attacked by a Jersey bull and gored to death. Moe was found a few minutes after the fight with the bull by his hired man, but life was already almost extinct and he died within a few minutes.

BROKERAGE CONCERN FAILS

Minneapolis Men Are Involved in the Failure.

New York, Sept. 6.—The failure of Watson & Co., members of the New York Stock and Produce exchanges, and of the Chicago Board of Trade, was announced in those exchanges Thursday. No cause was assigned for the failure nor was any estimate of the liabilities and assets made public. The firm has extensive connections in the West, maintaining offices in Duluth, Minneapolis, Fargo and Winnipeg. They are said to have carried on one of the biggest grain brokerage businesses in the country, besides trading actively in railroad stocks, particularly those of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads.

W. Frank Newell, manager of the firm's New York office, was named as assignee. The doors of the office in Broad street were closed after the announcement of the failure. Herbert B. Shoemaker, counsel for the assignee, gave out a statement that expert accountants had been put to work on the books and that a statement of the financial condition of the firm would soon be issued. He said also that the banks holding Watson & Co.'s loans have shown a disposition to give the firm an opportunity to extricate itself from its difficulties. The members of the firm are Louis T. Watson, Henry P. Watson, Charles E. Anderson and Herschell V. Jones. Louis T. Watson is the only member of the firm residing in this city, the others being residents of Minneapolis.

Since its organization in 1901 the firm had made a specialty of dealing in grain futures. It was generally understood that the firm had advised its patrons to buy grain this year and that both the company and its patrons profited thereby. The announcement of its failure was therefore unexpected on the Produce Exchange.

On the Stock Exchange, however, it was understood that the firm had lost heavily on account of the shrinkage in value of Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroad stocks.

The Wisdom of the Bee.

We marvel at what we call the wisdom of the live bee, yet there is one thing she never learns from experience, and that is that she is storing up honey for the use of man. She could not learn this, because such knowledge is not necessary to her own well being. Neither does she ever know when she has enough to carry her through the winter. This knowledge, again, is not important. Gather and store honey as long as there is any to be had is her motto, and in that rule she is safe.—John Burroughs in Atlantic.

HINDUS DRIVEN OUT

Mob Chases East Indians Out of Bellingham, Wash.

SIX OF THEM BADLY BEATEN

Four Hundred Others Are in Jail and More Than Seven Hundred Are Headed for Canada and the Protection of the British Flag.

Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 6.—Six badly beaten Hindus are in the hospital, 400 frightened and half-naked Sikhs are in jail and in the corridors of the city hall guarded by policemen, and somewhere between Bellingham and the British Columbia line are 750 natives of India, beaten, hungry and half-clothed, making their way along the Great Northern railway bound for Canadian territory and the protection of the British flag.

The long expected cry "drive out the Hindus" was heard throughout the city and along the waterfront Wednesday night. The police were helpless. All authority was paralyzed and for five hours a mob of 500 white men raided the mills where the blacks were working, battered down doors of lodging houses and dragging the invaders from their beds escorted them to the city limits with orders to keep on going.

The trouble started at C and Holly streets, a district with Indian lodging houses. The houses were cleaned and the denizens started to trek for the Canadian line. The mob then swept down to the waterfront and mill after mill was visited, the white employees joining the mob and every black man was hustled outside.

Here the police suggested that the undesirable be taken to the jail. This was hailed with delight and the blacks were hustled along. From this time on very few were beaten, as the blood-thirstiness of the mob seemingly was satisfied during the attack on the lodging houses.

The mob kept up its work along the waterfront until early Thursday morning, when Larson's mill at Whatcom Lake was visited and 100 blacks brought in from there. Four women were found Thursday morning among the crowd in the city building.

The city now is quiet, but there is a strong undercurrent of opinion which apparently approves the action of the mob and it may be found impossible to prosecute the leaders.

Racial feeling has played no small part in the affair. Every day whites are being replaced in the mills by blacks. The invaders have become bold and insolent, many instances of women being pushed into the gutter, insulted on street cars, etc., being reported. General uneasiness of the whites is given as a reason for the outbreak.

The Hindus are all British subjects and their case is being placed before the British authorities.

RIOT IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Quickly Quelled by Police After Several Arrests Are Made.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Another riot resulting from union labor troubles occurred in the Mission district, but was quickly quelled by the police after several arrests had been made. A large number of the Structural Iron Workers' union returning from the funeral of one of their former associates, J. P. Peterson, who was fatally shot during the Labor day attacks on United Railroad employees, had reached the corner of Guerrero and Sixteenth streets, when some of the men began to create a disturbance. Soon stones and other missiles were flying and in a few moments the windows of four or five street cars had been broken.

The crews of the cars drew their revolvers and fired several shots into the air to intimidate the mob. This caused the arrest of Motorman P. J.

Delpis for carrying a concealed weapon.

One passenger, Mrs. C. L. Gage, was struck in the face by a stone. No one was seriously hurt, however. The prompt arrival of the police quieted the turbulent crowds. Five men believed to have participated in the attack on the cars were placed under arrest.

The streets were cleared and regular traffic over the car lines was resumed.

MYSTERY IN DROWNING.

Bodies of a Young Man and a Girl Found in the Mississippi.

Muscatine, Ia., Sept. 6.—Bodies of a man and a girl clasped in each others' arms were found in the Mississippi river Thursday. There is nothing on the bodies to establish their identity. The police are undecided whether the pair grasped each other in drowning accidentally or whether they entered into a suicide compact and leaped into the river in a last embrace.

Order of the Eastern Star.

Milwaukee, Sept. 6.—At Thursday's session of the general grand chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, it was decided to have the ritual printed in German. The election of officers resulted in the election of Mrs. Ella S. Washburn of Racine as most worthy grand matron; W. H. Norris of Iowa as most worthy grand patron, and Mrs. Lorraine J. Pittkin of Illinois as right worthy grand secretary.

M'KINLEY MONUMENT.

Dedicated Before a Vast Multitude at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6.—In a heavy downpour of rain and before a vast multitude, the McKinley monument on Niagara square was dedicated and formally turned over to the state of New York through Governor Charles E. Hughes. The ceremonies were brief, but none the less impressive. Assembled on the stand near the monument with Governor Hughes were men prominent in the state and nation, and also from the Dominion of Canada.

Another large body consisting of Grand Army veterans who always hailed President McKinley as comrade formed in a circle in front of the speakers' stand and on the steps of the monument. Interspersed with them and in striking contrast to their plain blue uniforms and battle flags were the scarlet-coated Canadian troops.

But by far the mightiest part of the assemblage was the multitude that banked Niagara square and the approaching thoroughfares as far as the eye could see. Tops of houses and the roofs of near-by skyscrapers in the business section were used as vantage points from which to view the monument and its surroundings. It was before just such a crowd that President McKinley six years ago delivered his last memorial address.
